

IDEAHUB is looking for QA engineer position to join our R&D team on full-time basis.

An exciting and unique opportunity to become a part of Scrum team that develops a cloud SAAS product which monitor 30,000,000 sites around the world. The Product runs on hundreds of servers which generate 100G of new data which needs to be crunch using big data analytics tool in order to provide insights for our customers.

Responsibilities: Plan, Develop and Execute test scripts

We upgrade different components in the application on a daily bases. We are looking for a QA Engineer that will help us develop more automation tests for our backend components in order to improve our development. This person will be assign to a SCRUM team and will automate all his tests. We expect that the relation between automation and manual tests will be 80% (Automation)-20% (Manual)

Missions/duties: Plan, Develop and Execute test scripts

Requirements:

Education/training:

- Computer related B.Sc. degree or equivalent background.

Years of experience: at least 2-3 years

Areas of experience

- Must:
  - Knowledge in QA methodologies – he need to understand new features and design/develop tests
  - Experience in both manual and automatic testing
  - Knowledge scripting language programming (e.g. Shell, python, Java...)
  - Experience with Unix/Linux (e.g. shell commands, awk, ...) .
  - Dealing with databases in data related projects using SQL
- Advantage:

- Knowledge of Networking, Proxy, TCP/IP protocol.
- Testing backend components in distributed application
- Knowledge about performance and scale testing

Personality requirements

- Smart
- Fast Learner
- “Can Do Attitude”

Interfaces with:

- inbound

Salary range recommended:

- No limit for now

Remarks:

- “A” player